SOCIALIST UNITY IS FOUNDED HERE

Michael Harrington Says
Group Starts With 500

By PETER KIHSS

David Lewis, leader of the New Democratic party, which governs three of Canada's 10 provinces and holds the balance of power in Parliament, came here yesterday to endorse a new American Socialist effort led by the author Michael Harrington.

In a news conference at the McAlpin Hotel with Mr. Lewis, Mr. Harrington said the founding convention of his Democratic Socialist Organizing Committee today and tomorrow was also getting greetings from the French and Swedish Socialist parties and expected a message from the British labor party.

Mr. Harrington said his group was starting with 500 dues-paying members (initially at $7 a year, proposed for $20), including 200 formerly in the old Socialist party as well as others such as David Selden, president of the American Federation of Teachers, and Patrick E. Gorman, international secretary-treasurer of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen.

Separately, the Social Democrats, U.S.A., successor to the old party, said its co-chairman, Bayard Rustin, had written to Mr. Lewis urging the Canadian leader "not to lend your prestigious name or presence" to the new group.

Blow to Unity Charged

Mr. Rustin said the Harrington effort would "destroy democratic socialist unity in the United States," and Mr. Harrington's "continuous ill-advised public attacks on George Meany," president of the American Federation of Labor-Congress of Industrial Organizations, would isolate "his group from the general labor movement here."

Mr. Lewis said he had been induced to speak to a pre-convention session at New York University's Loeb Student Center last night because the older group "distressed me very on its attitude in support of the war in Vietnam, which seemed to me a touchstone on the socialist approach."

For the Social Democrats, Joan Snull, their national secretary, said "our attitude was for a negotiated settlement of the war—the difference was that we were not for a unilateral pullout."

Mr. Lewis said that if the Harrington group "does become a voice in the United States, I think we would consider seeing their admission to the Socialist International, not to be the exclusion of the other group." He said done or two other countries had two separate parties in the world socialist federation.

Mr. Harrington said he would ask the new group, which is designed to be "a center for communication and education," to "support Israel's struggle for existence, including, if necessary, American resupply of its forces" particularly in case of Soviet reinforcement of Arab in the current war.
